No longer is menopause a taboo subject and women don't have to go through this time in their lives alone. Dr. Brannen will open the discussion about menopause and the effects it has on women, families and partners' lives. Come join the conversation and take back your life during and after menopause.

At the end of this talk, you will be able to:

- Identify symptoms of menopause.
- Identify the reason for painful intercourse during and after menopause.
- Identify ways to improve your relationship with your partner so this can be the most exciting and fun part of your romance.
